Introduction

THE METROPOLITAN NEW YORK SKI COUNCIL is a non-profit organization dedicated to the sport of skiing which embodies recreational skiing - Alpine and Nordic -and amateur ski competition, in the form of intra-club and inter-club races. Our interclub race has been run almost every year since 1936, but due to the current Pandemic it has been cancelled for 2021.

The Met Council's ski clubs with a total membership close to 8,000 reflect all interests. Some recall our backgrounds, for example, the Norsemen, Swedish and German Ski Clubs; some our workplaces like Grumman or LILCO; others residence locations like New York, Suffolk and Garden City; and even National history - the Tenth Mountain Division, like the NY Ski Club.. The Council is a forum for local, national and international skiing concerns.

It organizes special events and presentations, develops programs, listens to gripes and praises, all part of the friendly and invigorating sport of skiing. Its efforts are very important in helping support the U.S. Olympic Team, the Ski Hall of Fame and working with the U.S. Ski Association and the National Ski Patrol System. "Special effort is continuing to work with the United Ski Industries Association, the new name for the merged National Ski Areas Association with the Ski Industries of America and now known as USIA, located at 8377-B Greensboro Drive, McLean, Virginia, 22102; re promotions geared toward safety in skiing programs and the new skier campaign".

American Skiing was born more than 100 years ago with the Nansen Ski Club of Berlin, N.H. and Norwegian settlers of Wisconsin, Minnesota and Michigan. After the turn of the century, the National Ski Association was formed, followed by its first division, The Eastern Amateur Ski Association chartered at Saranac Lake, N.Y. in 1922. When the Federation International de Ski (FIS) was formed (Chamonix, 1924) the National Organization joined them.

Due to the distance between New York City and these organizations the regional Met Council was begun here in 1934. Since then Eastern has dissolved and USSA has moved to Park City, Utah, making the Met Council an even more important forum for Eastern Skiing.

Founders of the Met Council were an important factor in leading the U.S. ski movement, and witness Roland Palmedo, who played a great part in the original development in Stowe, later starting his own ski area - Mad River Glen. He was instrumental in the early stages of the National Ski Patrol, carrying the number 2. About this time the Metropolitan New York Ski Patrol was formed with Ken Littlefield as chairman. The Patrol newspaper "Trail Sweep" was started by Ken Littlefield and later carried on by Tom Ludwig, also a council member. Another council member, John Clair, Jr., served for 25 years as Regional Chairman of the Metropolitan New York Region Ski Patrol.

Although fewer than ten percent of our membership actively compete, we enjoy and support competition.

Over the years this council has been host to American and Foreign ski teams and VIP's visiting the United States largely because of it's location and because of the efforts of the late John Clair, Jr.

Letter from Chairman

Hello and welcome to the 2020/2021 Metropolitan New York Ski Council (MNYSC) Guidebook. Hope everyone well and staying safe.

This is going to be an unusual season this year. There will be limited capacity at the mountains, more outdoor eating, you will need to get ready at your vehicle this year, make reservations ahead of time to go skiing. We all have to understand that this season will be different and to understand that the rules will be different and to have more patience while you are either skiing or boarding.

In April of this year, the Metropolitan New York Ski Council donated $10,000 to 71 Visuals, Hauppauge to make face shields that the Council donated to various hospitals in the region that was facing a shortage of masks.

The Council also gave free ½ page black and white ads to anyone that wanted one. We felt that this is the least we can do this season to help out.

The Metropolitan New York Ski Council represents skiers and boarders from New York City, Westchester, Long Island, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Southern Connecticut. The MNYSC is a proud member of the National Ski Council Federation. The Federation represents Councils throughout the United States. Their mission is to strengthen Councils, with industry participation, so they can better serve member clubs through communication, benefits, education and to influence issues relevant to snow sports.

The Metropolitan New York Ski Council has been in existence since 1934. We have over 47 clubs. More are joining every season. Check out the club information in the guidebook, we have clubs for everyone. The main advantage for joining a club is the FUN you will have, being able to make new friends, ski or board with others who have the same abilities as you yourself. Clubs connect people who have a passion for the sport. Also, the discounts offered with being a member of a club. The MNYSC offers discounted lift tickets to multiple mountains in the Northeast. You will also see discounted Council days in the guidebook. You will need to be a club member to take advantage of these offers.

The Metropolitan New York Ski Council is also proud members of these organizations, the National Ski Areas Association, United States Ski & Snowboard Association, Ski Areas of New York, National Ski Council Federation and the Snowsports Industries of America. We are also a proud supporter of the International Skiing History Association and the Share Winter Foundation.

The Metropolitan New York Ski Council also offers a $1,000 scholarship to high school seniors looking to attend college and college students already enrolled. It is the Harry Walter Voege Memorial Scholarship. The information may be found in the guidebook or on our website www.METNYSKI.org.

Please support the smaller mountains in your area. They are the areas that will most likely be someone's first time to either ski or board. The local areas are close and you can get a lot of runs in. We need to bring more people onto the slopes. The sport needs to keep growing. So, if you know someone who might be looking to start, bring them with you the next time you go and get them started. Let them get a chance to enjoy the sport as much as you do. Nothing beats a beautiful day on the slopes. The beginners are the future of the sport. Let's try to get as many new people on the slopes as we can.

Hope you can get out onto the slopes this season. Be well and stay safe.

ANNUAL SKI & INTER-CLUB RACE DAY

Postpone Until 2022

Each year since 1936 the Metropolitan New York Ski Council has run an annual ski and inter-club racing competition. The competition, which features both alpine and snowboard races, is normally held during the later part of January. To ensure good participation, five events are offered: Main, Intermediate, Junior, Husband & Wife, and Snowboard. The competition draws serious racers and not so serious racers alike and offers a wonderful opportunity for members of the Council's clubs to meet, to compete, to ski together and to celebrate at the après ski party where medals are awarded and tentative trophy winner results are announced.

The competition is open to anyone who has been a member of a Metropolitan New York Ski Council club since January 1st of the year of the race, who is a bonafide amateur, who meets the eligibility requirements of the event entered, and who abides by the rules.

Each year the following prized trophies are engraved and passed to the winners or to the winners' clubs.

Metropolitan New York Ski Council donated $10,000

Brian Geiger, Michael Calderone, Craig Geiger & Jeff Meyer at 71 Visuals offices. The number above us is the amount of face shields made to date.

In April 2020, the Metropolitan New York Ski Council donated $10,000 to 71 Visuals to make face shields that will be donated to various hospitals on Long Island & New York City.

71 Visuals is a graphic design company based in Hauppauge, N.Y. 71 Visuals decided to help out by making face shield to help with the shortage of face shields the region was dealing with.

71 Visuals was able to make 2,000 face shields with this donation by the Council. I had the pleasure to drop off 500 face shields to Cohen's Children's Hospital in New Hyde Park and 500 face shields to Stony Brook medical in Southampton.

John Reavis 1935-2020

John Reavis joined the Grumman Ski Club in 1980 and served as President from 1984 to 1988. John's passion was skiing and he had a way about him to engage new members to participate in club activities and skiing with the same passion he did. The Grumman Ski Club had the privilege of his contributions as President to the club, his wisdom, his friendship and will be greatly missed."

William "Bill" Jessup (aka King William) 1933-2020

The Suffolk Skidaddlers Ski Club, Double Diamond Ski Club, Long Island Association of Ski Clubs (LIASC), and Metropolitan New York Ski Council (MNYSC) have all lost a long-time dedicated member and an "always willing to help" volunteer. Bill Jessup was born October 28, 1933 and sadly passed away on June 1, 2020 at the age of 86. Bill was a life-long ski enthusiast, having skied in Europe, South America, and North America (both in the US and in Canada) and for many years participated in inter-club races held by both the LIASC and the MNYSC. Bill and his wife Nancy "Nan" were active and helpful members of the clubs and councils, and always offered to help at events. Bill passed along his love for skiing to his daughter

Cathy, who is one of the most talented skiers you will see out on the slopes today. Bill continued to ski until his late 70s and, although he stopped skiing, he stayed an active and involved member of the ski clubs and councils for several years thereafter.

Bill was a member of the Suffolk Skidaddlers for almost 30 years. During that time held the position of President, Past President, was a Trip Leader for Western and Northeast Ski Trips, and was the club representative to the LIASC and the MNYSC. Bill was a member of the Double Diamond SC for over 20 years and, during a different time period, was their club representative to the LIASC and the MNYSC. Bill also held the position of Secretary of the LIASC and the MNYSC.

When asked how are things going, Bill would always answer with a question – How much time do you have? Unfortunately, Bill's time has now run out and those of us who knew him are missing a very dear friend.

THE METROPOLITAN NEW YORK SKI COUNCIL HISTORY

The Metropolitan New York Ski Council had its inception as the Central Ski Committee in 1934. Representatives from 6 clubs met for the purpose of finding a way to bring skiing information to New York and to blaze the trails for the adventuresome to escape to the Winter Wonderland.

Drawn together by mutual interests, they worked in close harmony with the press and the Northland in an endeavor to evolve a uniform method of snow reporting.

The Council found and developed its own area at Norfolk, Connecticut, got ski trains to run there, and promoted weekend snow trains to the Catskills, Vermont, and the Laurentians. It got snow reports into the New York SUN, established a practice slope in Phoenicia, conducted interclub races which have been run ever since 1935, gave free instruction in Central Park, infected thousands of city dwellers with the ski bug by sponsoring movies, and helping promote the first winter sports show in New York City. This Council formed the Metropolitan Ski Patrol shortly after the NSPS was started. Ken Littlefield put out a bulletin, TRAIL SWEEP, which has become the National Ski Patrol's house organ.

Over the years this council has been host to foreign ski teams visiting the United States, largely because of its location and because of the efforts of the late John J. Clair Jr. It has also been a leader of the revival of ski touring.

The following is a highlight of events throughout the years:

November 1940 - The Metropolitan New York Ski Council met with ski writers. The meeting was devoted to an exchange of ideas between the members of the council and the press. Means of facilitating snow reports were also discussed. November 1940 - The Amateur Ski Club, member of the Council, sponsored a meeting to award Minot Dole, Chairman of the National Ski Patrol, with the United States Eastern Amateur Ski Associations Safety Trophy. November 1943 - The Swedish Ski Club, one of the most active ski clubs of the east, contributed 17 members to the United States Ski Troops. December 1947 - The Amateur Ski Club hosted the United States Olympic Ski Team before they were sent off to the Fifth Winter Games at St. Moritz, Switzerland. November 1949 - The Metropolitan New York Ski Council was designated by the National Ski Association of America to serve as the official reception committee to welcome all foreign skiers for the world championships to be held at Lake Placid, New York and Aspen, Colorado this winter. At this time the Council had 28 clubs and 7500 members. October 1950 - The Metropolitan New York Ski Council had 30 clubs and close to 10,000 members. January 1952 - The Metropolitan New York Ski Council hosted the United States Olympic Nordic Ski Squad before they departed to Oslo, Norway for the Sixth Winter Games. 1957 - The Metropolitan New York Ski Council's Ski Development Committee worked with New York State with forming new ski areas in the State. Past members of the council who had an influence in the ski community: John J. Clair Jr. - The Chairman of the 1956 United States Olympic Ski Games Committee. John has also held key positions with the National Ski Association of America, National Ski Patrol System and The United States Eastern Amateur Ski Association. In October 1956, John was named winner of the American Ski Trophy, because of his many contributions to the sport. In May 1970, John was inducted into the Ski Hall of Fame.

Roland Palmedo - The founder of Mad River Glen which opened in 1948.

He was also an author of many books on skiing and developed one of the most extensive ski libraries in America. Roland was also a founding member of the National Ski Patrol.

Harry Voege - President of the New York State Winter Sports Council, Vice President and Director of the United States Eastern Amateur Ski Association and he founded The Metropolitan Ski Jumping Committee. He was instrumental in forming ski clubs throughout the Metropolitan New York City area. Harry was also Director of the National Ski Association. From the 1930's until his death, Harry was an advocate of eastern U.S. Skiing. of the founding fathers in promoting winter sports in the Metropolitan New York City area.

New England native is raising the bar on the ski-buying experience

By Eric Wibur

UNH grad Ted Eynon, owner of Meier Skis, a Colorado-based custom manufacturer. (Meier Skis)

The way former Red Sox catcher Carlton Fisk figures it, if there were some truth to everybody he has encountered over the years saying that he or she were there the night he hit the famed, game-winning home run in Game 6 of the 1975 World Series, then Fenway Park's attendance would have been somewhere around 250,000 people that night.

Count Ted Eynon among the masses.

In the actual crowd of 32,205, that is, not the revisionist estimate that has only grown with the game's legend.

"I actually was there," the native of Ashland, Mass., said. "I truly was there."

Believe him or not (we'll take his word for it), it's less dubious to argue that Eynon has positioned himself in a similarly pivotal, if less dramatic, juncture of the skiing industry as the owner of Meier Skis, a Colorado-based custom manufacturer that is making the process of buying skis an enveloping experience. That's quite the difference from a disappearing age when interested buyers solely based their purchases on what they saw in a ski magazine ad or a banner in a ski shop.

"One, we actually make the skis ourselves," Eynon said. "And two, it's an immersive brand experience."

Visitors to the Denver "skiere," as the factory has been dubbed, will find comfortable surroundings set up to introduce everyone to the manufacturing process. There's a bar, where the "skitender" knows all about the production of the skis, a process taking place behind large glass windows behind the bar.

"People can hang out at the bar, touch and feel the material, learn about the production process while having a beer, and watch the guys actually laying out and pressing skis and getting kind of a play-by-play of that whole process," Eynon said.

At the end of the day (usually around 5:30), Meier hosts its "Happy Hour Tours" once the factory workers are finished cleaning up. Guests will be welcome to visit the shop and go through all the work stations in order to get a sense of how the skis are made.

"It's fun," Eynon said. "I think it's eye-opening to a lot of people. So many people, including myself, skied forever and have owned a bunch of skis but didn't really know what went into making a ski. By the time you're done with the end of the tour, you have a really good idea about how skis are made."

It's not necessarily an industry that the 1985 graduate of the University of New Hampshire figured he'd find himself in one day. Eynon came from a software business for utilities, one he sold in 2008 to General Electric. He then ended up traveling around the world for a few years for the company until he tired of dealing with a company the size of GE and wanted to do something different.

The fact that he was eventually drawn to the ski industry, though, makes sense.

Eynon's father, Stuart, was a certified ski instructor for 45 years. He started shortly after World War II — in which he served as a bottom gunner for B-24 Liberators — as a student at UNH. In his spare time, he would travel to North Conway (right around the same time iconic ski school patriarch Hannes Schneider was changing the face of instruction), where he became an instructor and also became friends with Swiss National Ski Team member Paul Valar and his wife, U.S. Olympian Paula Kann Valar. The Valars were instrumental in creating ski schools at Cannon and Mittersill mountains, a connection that led the Franconia Notch locales to become Ted's most-frequented winter destinations while growing up in New England.

Ted eventually ended up in Colorado, as many New Englanders manage to at some point, largely because of skiing, and he started to learn a little bit about the cottage industry of ski and snowboard manufacturing.

"There weren't too many of them, but it intrigued me," he said.

It was around that time when a friend saw an article in the Denver Post about Matt Cudmore, who started Meier in his garage in Glenwood Springs. "I reached out to Matt, we got together and skied and had a good time," Eynon said. "We shared common interests and passions, decided to go into business together, get him out of the garage and set him up in factory, trying to make a bigger deal out of it."

The philosophies of the company started to form at that point as well. Cudmore's brother was working for the Colorado State Forest at the time and had the idea of using sustainable wood sources from Colorado. All of the offerings are handcrafted in Denver using locally harvested, sustainable aspen (about 90 percent of the wood profiles) and beetle kill pine.

"The wood is great to use and can even be used for framing homes," Eynon said. "It's got good integrity.

"We use a clear topsheet to show it off. We still have graphics on the skis, but we always show off a lot of the wood core so you can actually see the colors of the wood, the natural beauties of the wood, as well as the workmanship. It's a distinct look."

Meier offers 18 models of skis, most recently announcing two new ones at January's outdoor retail show in Denver. There's everything from a narrow, frontside carver akin to a racing ski to all-mountain skis to fat powder skis. "The custom path is we really try and figure out the right model and length for someone based on their skier type," Eynon said, "where they ski, the type of terrain they ski, the snow that typically falls there, et cetera.

"They're actually not made that much different than the major brands like Atomic and Rossi (Rossignol) and what have you. They might use some automations to build components and cut shapes and stuff, but the actual layup and pressing process, where you have to apply epoxy to all the composites and the material and put everything together on the layup table, it's done the same everywhere. It hasn't been automated anywhere."

Graphics for the ski can either be done in-house, or with the advice of one of Meier's graphic designers. "Some people are artists and they give us a painting," Eynon said. "It could be anything."

Visitors to the company's "skier" in Denver can learn about Meier skis as they sample a pint at the bar. The "skitender" knows all about the production of the skis, a process taking place behind large glass windows behind the bar. (Meier Skis)

Meier is present in a number of ski shops throughout New England and sells direct as well. (Meier Skis)

That's what essentially makes the ski unique.

"Then, it's one of one," Eynon said. "There's only one of that kind in the world."

It's these sorts of independent ski manufacturers that are making a name for themselves on the slopes, even as what Eynon figures is only one percent of the entire market. It's a lot more interesting for people to talk about their original Meiers or Parlors, based in Boston, than it might be their new pair of Völkl, which happens to be only one pair of thousands of others like them.

"That's what is so important about having a distinct and unique look to the skis," Eynon said.

Despite the Colorado address, Meier skis are easy to try out in New England. The company is present in a number of ski shops throughout the region and sells direct as well. There also are on-mountain demos scheduled for this month at Magic Mountain, Pico and Mohawk Mountain in Connecticut. (Check www.meierskis.com for a complete listing.)

Meier even helps protect its retail partners so that people can buy direct from Meier and the shop where the customer demoed can still get credit for those orders. That takes a lot of the risk out of the retail shop, particularly when they traditionally place orders in March in order to sell for the next season, guessing on quantities, lengths and models. Then, "pray to God it actually snows, you can sell the stuff and make some margin on it," Eynon said. "With Meier, since we're actually producing everything ourselves here, we have the ability to hit the gas and produce more accelerated production based on orders flow. So, a ski shop doesn't have to guess as much.

Meier everything from a narrow, frontside carver akin to a racing ski to allmountain skis to fat powder skis. (Meier Skis)

"It's definitely a bit of a paradigm shift as far as the traditional business model for ski production and supply chain all the way."

So, while Eynon's father might have finally ended his skiing days (the 97-year-old committed to the lifestyle change by giving his skis to his cardiologist last year), Ted continues to be at the forefront of the way the ski buying business is changing.

There aren't too many other people, unlike that game in 1975, who can truly say the same.

White Plains Ski Club

70 members

Meetings are held monthly October through April. See club website (www.whiteplainsskiclub.org) for dates and times.

Activities: Members of the White Plains Ski Club have been enjoying skiing, winter and summer sports and outings and each other's company for over 60 years. The WPSC is a fun and affordable way for you and your family and friends to enjoy skiing in winter and the beautiful Vermont countryside year-round. The lodge sleeps 32 and has large communal kitchen and dining areas, living room, a sunken fireplace, and room for equipment.

Many of our members are avid downhill skiers, some are cross country skiers, and some don't ski at all. While Mad River Glen ("Ski it if you can") has a reputation for being a challenging mountain, our membership is comprised of expert, intermediate and beginner skiers who enjoy all that Mad River offers. We have both single and married members, some with children, some without. We have young members and "well-established" members. Despite our club name, our membership is spread throughout NY, NJ, CT and MA.

Lodge: Skiers and non-skiers alike are invited to join us and discover our spacious and comfortable ski lodge within walking distance of the legendary Mad River Ski area in Waitsfield, VT.
